

New certification

Georgia Cancer Specialists employee Bonnie Dixon, RD, LD recently achieved board certification as a specialist in oncology nutrition. She is one of only seven registered dietitians in Georgia with this certification. Dixon may now add the credential certified specialist in oncology nutrition (CSO) to her name. The Commission on Dietetic Registration bestows the CSO credential.

Ms. Dixon serves the GCS Northside office in Sandy Springs, located at 1100 Johnson Ferry Road, Suite 600.

“The certification exam was very challenging, because what you’re tested on goes far beyond book knowledge,” she said. “It’s heavily based on things that must be learned through specialized experience.”
